

like dandelion
dust

Ministry in a Movie Theater?

Like Dandelion Dust in theaters beginning September 24.

This movie will move the hearts and minds of people in our community.

Joey lives an idyllic life with his parents on the coast of Florida. His days are spent playing with his cousins, sailing with his dad, and making up stories with his mom.

It's a perfect life until the day they receive a disturbing phone call: a stranger's decision could tear Joey away from the comfort and security of the only home he's ever known.

One family is determined to keep the son they love, the other is determined to begin a new life, the life they've always dreamed of. Joey's future rests in their hands and someone must make the bravest decision of their life. Sometimes the greatest love is letting go.

Like Dandelion Dust is that rare movie that has the potential to spawn deep conversations about things that really matter. It has already captured the hearts of critics and film festival audiences around the world, now it's coming to your town.

Take this opportunity to invite friends who might not come to church with you, but would see a critically acclaimed movie. Featuring powerful performances from Academy Award™ winner Mira Sorvino and Golden Globe™ nominee Barry Pepper, it offers a non-threatening and culturally enriching chance to connect with friends and neighbors.

This feature film is the first movie based on a novel by New York Times bestselling author Karen Kingsbury, and now you can see why people are talking about it. Watch the trailer here www.LikeDandelionDust.com.

Make this one of the most significant events of the year for your church or small group ministry: Demand It! for your area and we'll provide all the tools you need. Register at www.Facebook.com/LikeDandelionDust.

like
dandelion
dust

Ministry in a Movie Theater?

Like Dandelion Dust in theaters beginning September 24.

This movie will move the hearts and minds of people in our community.

Joey lives an idyllic life with his parents on the coast of Florida. His days are spent playing with his cousins, sailing with his dad, and making up stories with his mom.

It's a perfect life until the day they receive a disturbing phone call: a stranger's decision could tear Joey away from the comfort and security of the only home he's ever known.

One family is determined to keep the son they love, the other is determined to begin a new life, the life they've always dreamed of. Joey's future rests in their hands and someone must make the bravest decision of their life. Sometimes the greatest love is letting go.

Like Dandelion Dust is that rare movie that has the potential to spawn deep conversations about things that really matter. It has already captured the hearts of critics and film festival audiences around the world, now it's coming to your town.

Take this opportunity to invite friends who might not come to church with you, but would see a critically acclaimed movie. Featuring powerful performances from Academy Award™ winner Mira Sorvino and Golden Globe™ nominee Barry Pepper, it offers a non-threatening and culturally enriching chance to connect with friends and neighbors.

This feature film is the first movie based on a novel by New York Times bestselling author Karen Kingsbury, and now you can see why people are talking about it. Watch the trailer here www.LikeDandelionDust.com.

Make this one of the most significant events of the year for your church or small group ministry: Demand It! for your area and we'll provide all the tools you need. Register at www.Facebook.com/LikeDandelionDust.

